

A group of approximately ten women are sitting on a wooden deck, viewed from behind. They are all raising their hands in the air, suggesting a celebratory moment. The woman on the far left is wearing a white top and a white tutu. The others are wearing black tops and denim shorts. In front of them, on the deck, are several small, round, colorful objects that look like watermelon slices with a drink on top. To the left, a large inflatable penguin is visible in the pool. The background shows a modern building with a stone wall and a large glass-paned pergola structure. The scene is brightly lit, indicating it's daytime.
